THE CIVIL COURTS.

Judge Horner Promptly Disposes of the Mischief Habeas Corpus Case.

Session of the Court of Appeals and Amendment of Rule-A Wife's Answer to Shocking Allegations—Petitioner for Support—A Question of Form of Signature—An Appeal by the Police Board—Dora Fitzgerald's Case.

The habeas corpus proceeding instituted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heilmann to recover possession of their little adopted daughter, Laura F. Mischief, before Judge Horner at the motion-horn this morning at Ten and Monroe streets and that lady going the child into court this morning. There was no return or answer on the part of the father, Henry Mischief. The little girl five years ago needed attention, her mother becoming mentally deranged, and Mr. and Mrs. Heilmann took the little one under their roof. They have since been deranged, and the child, and treated her in every way as one of their own children.

A few days since Mrs. Heilmann went out walking with the child, and was assaulted upon the street by a man named Mischief. She was thrown down, he seized the child and took her to the residence of her mother, where she was kept in confinement and battery was sworn out against Mischief and he was arrested. Mr. and Mrs. Heilmann then sought the aid of the court to have the child returned to them. Judge Horner, in disposing of this matter, stated that he was not in court, and it would be necessary to reach him by attachment. The child, however, has been produced in court.

Judge Horner, in disposing of this matter, stated that he was not in court, and it would be necessary to reach him by attachment. The child, however, has been produced in court.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a group of frame houses on Third street,

ais. The alarm was given by the engineer in the edge yards, who turned the whistles of their engines loose. Hundreds of people who were wakened from their sleep, hurried into the streets the scenes. The occupants of the frame buildings where the fire was burning and spreading, rushed out half-clad. In terror and confusion. Their parents, as soon as they realized the situation, were rushed to getting the children and household furniture from the buildings. The

A WEEK OF FEATURES

The Programme for the Remaining Days of the Ex.

A Night for Employees—Thursday's Show of Out Flowers—The Veiled Exhibitors—Gossip of the Naves.

The last week of the Ex. opened out pretty well with a very good attendance yesterday afternoon and evening. The weather was anything but propitious, and in the face of such opposition, the elements gave, the success of the thirty fifth day was all that could be asked. In yesterday's Post, mention was made that this would be a week of special features. Some of these features are announced by the managers to-day. To-morrow night will be a night of special features. The programme for to-morrow night is as follows:—
At 7 o'clock, the employees of the Exposition will be invited to a special entertainment at the Music Hall. The programme for to-morrow night is as follows:—

ALIDA HARWOOD.

An Episcopal Minister's Daughter Embraces the Catholic Faith.

The Funeral of the Young Lady—Services of a Dual Character—Miss Alida's Desire to Enter a Convent—How the Young Lady Was Converted.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
New Haven, Conn., October 19.—The funeral of Miss Alida, daughter of Rev. Edwin S. Harwood, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church in this city, yesterday afternoon revealed to many for the first time that the beautiful and much lamented society belle was a devoted Roman Catholic. There had been rumors to that effect for some time, but there were many of her friends who did not believe that the daughter of the first Episcopal churchman in Connecticut had become a convert. The funeral services were of a dual character, the first service being of the Episcopal order, and the second of the Roman Catholic. The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, 100 West 10th street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, 100 West 10th street, at 10 o'clock. There had been rumors to that effect for some time, but there were many of her friends who did not believe that the daughter of the first Episcopal churchman in Connecticut had become a convert. The funeral services were of a dual character, the first service being of the Episcopal order, and the second of the Roman Catholic. The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, 100 West 10th street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, 100 West 10th street, at 10 o'clock.

New Haven, Conn., October 19.—The funeral of Miss Alida, daughter of Rev. Edwin S. Harwood, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church in this city, yesterday afternoon revealed to many for the first time that the beautiful and much lamented society belle was a devoted Roman Catholic. $250 IN GOLD! DOZIER-WEYL CRACKER CO.'S EXPOSITION PRIZE.

Every visitor to the Exposition is familiar with Cracker Castle, the home of the monster Parrot, erected by the Dozier-Weyl Cracker Company. These gentlemen offer to the public a remarkable opportunity, as will be seen by the following communication.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—To the St. Louis Exposition and Music Hall Association, City-GENTLEMEN: We hereby offer a premium of $250 in gold to the person, be it man, woman or child, guessing the nearest to the number of crackers, cakes, jumbles or snaps (the total number of the whole) in our display at the Exposition. In case of a tie, the money is to be divided equally between the parties entitled to the same.

Cracker bakers and employees of same are barred from competing, and in this connection we beg to state that no one in or out of our establishment has the remotest idea of the number of crackers, etc., in the display.

All guesses made in the city shall be deposited by the person making the same in a box provided for this purpose at our exhibit, in the Exposition building, and no person will be allowed to make more than one guess. Cards for this purpose will be furnished at our display.

All guesses from outside of the city must be addressed to P. O. Box 1,000, Exposition Building, St. Louis, Mo. To aid those out of the city in making more intelligent guesses, we will, on application by mail, let them know the exact number of cans in our display. All guesses from outside of the city must reach us not later than Tuesday, October 27, and must give correct name and address of the person making the same. For the further aid of those living out of the city, we beg to state that the kind of cans used may be seen in any first-class grocery store in the Mississippi Valley, and are known as Dozier-Weyl Cracker Company's "Patent Oval Glass Front Cans."

For the general information of those competing for the prize, we think it but fair to state that the cans are filled only between the glass and a tin partition two inches in the rear of same. The number of crackers, etc., in the display will be ascertained after the Exposition closes by the committee of directors of the Exposition in charge of the week ending October 24, and the lucky numbers, together with the name of the winner of the prize, will be published in the daily papers, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

No opportunity to examine the display after 11 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 24, will be given, and no one will be allowed to compete for the prize after that time, except as heretofore provided for guessing by mail.

All are invited to compete for this prize, which will be paid in gold to the person entitled to the same as soon as the result is ascertained. Respectfully, Dozier-Weyl Cracker Co.
